Ca. 1901 two-story wood frame Folk
Victorian house

Constructed by local builder John Ellis
McAuley

James L. Lawing House (5015)

6620 Neck Road

Ca. 1909 two-story wood frame gable and wing Folk Victorian vernacular house

Lawing was a prominent farmer in the Long Creek area.

Morse-Teague Log Cabin (5027)

13246 Allison Ferry Road

Ca. 1947 one-story Rustic Revival gabled log house

Connected to Charlotte photographer
William Means Morse and local historian
Mildred Morse McEwen

James B. Kidd House (5033)

5720 Jim Kidd Road

Ca. 1912 two-story wood frame side-gabled house

Kidd was a well-known farmer in the Long Creek area whose farm was large and had many tenants.

Stillwell-Hubbard Dairy Farm (5046)

14720 Brown Mill Road

Ca. 1900s dairy farm buildings

Excellent example of a dairy farm in Mecklenburg County. The tractor shed (right) was destroyed by a thunderstorm in April.

Stillwell-Hubbard House (5047)

14809 Brown Mill Road

Ca. 1940 one-story brick side-gabled Tudor
Revival house

Very few Tudor-style residences in Huntersville area, especially in the more rural areas. Connected with dairy farm across the road.

John Frank Houston House (5060)

9102 Beatties Ford Road

Ca. 1918 two-story side-gabled Neoclassical vernacular house

Houston was a merchant and farmer in the Long Creek area. His farm extended west of Beatties Ford Road.

[Unnamed] House (5073)

13828 Beatties Ford Road

Ca. 1900 two-story wood frame hip-roofed
Colonial Revival house

Chain of title is quite convoluted; looks to be connected with Arthur J. Alexander, son of William Lee Davidson Alexander.

Caldwell Rosenwald School (5092)

15435 NC Highway 73

Ca. 1925 one-story wood frame front-gabled institutional building with additions

Currently used as a commercial building.

Hager-Cook House (5099)

7602 Oliver Hager Road

Ca. 1935 two-story wood frame side-gabled
Colonial Revival house with farm buildings

Farm buildings are in poor condition.

Kerns House (5115)

Surveyed in 1987-1988 SHPO survey

Woodside Tenant House/Espy Alexander House (5209)

410 Dellwood Drive

Ca. 1890s one-story wood frame paired-gable house

Owned by J. F. Woodside from 1872 to 1911, the property was a tenant farm when he sold it (Mecklenburg County Deed Book 277, Page 476 – Woodside retained ability to collect 1911 rents from tenant on the 50 acres of property).

Listed on the HLC Study list as the Espy Alexander House; Alexander was a long-time owner of the property.

Torrence-Lytle
Community
Center/Huntersville
Rosenwald School (5210)

508 Dellwood Drive

Ca. 1928 one-story wood frame front-gabled building

Former Huntersville Rosenwald School.

Only airport in the Huntersville ETJ.

Brown House (5239)

15131 Fred Brown Road

Ca. 1890s two-story wood frame side-gabled
I-house

House has good context and sits in the middle of a wide-open pastured area.

McCord House (5262)

13312 McCord Road

Ca. 1900 two-story wood frame side-gabled
Folk Victorian vernacular house with addition

Cletus A. Brawley House (5271)

15701 Cletus Brawley Road

Ca. 1941 one-story wood frame front-gabled
Craftsman house

Brawley worked as a quiller at a cotton mill, perhaps Anchor Mill. This property serves as an example of the small farms kept by mill workers in the area.

Knox House (5275)

17209 N. Old Statesville Road

Ca. 1890s one-story wood frame gable-front-and-wing Folk Victorian house context with large pastured lands behind it.

William Orr Brown House (5305)

14403 Stumptown Road

Ca. 1911 one-story wood frame side-gabled with center-front gable Colonial Revival house

Example of early Colonial Revival farm house. Property is snugged between I-77 and U.S. 21, but still has 15 acres of unimproved land behind it.

Dr. Craven House (5337)

103 N. Old Statesville Road

Ca. 1918 one-story wood frame hip-roofed
Colonial Revival house

Built probably by Dr. W. W. Craven and owned by his brother Dr. Thomas Craven from 1922 until his death in 1952. Both were sons of Dr. Walter Pharr Craven, whose house is a local landmark.

Former Huntersville Public Library (5398)

109 S. Old Statesville Road

Ca. 1956 one-story brick and wood frame
gabled commercial building

Designed by D.M. Mackintosh and Co. First permanent library in Huntersville (previous space had been rented).

Auten Apartments (5401)
