Commissioners' Comments

Commissioner Barfield stated that there are two more scheduled meetings before the deadline for the application for this Certificate of Appropriateness. Gray explained that this hearing is being continued from the last meeting due to a lack of a quorum at that meeting. He stated that the Commission could vote tonight or delay to the January 8, 2024, meeting.

The Commission discussed the nearby properties owned by the airport.

Commissioner Wilson asked about the proposed plan to relocate this house to ensure its preservation. Gray stated that the plan did not proceed and noted that he received a letter from the airport stating that this plan would not be pursued at that location. Gray stated that the house could be relocated to a different location. Commissioner Wilson stated that he would be in favor of not delaying the effective date of the Certificate of Appropriateness for the entire 365 days if the airport would discuss relocation.

Chair Clarke stated that the house was built around 1825 and was designated as a landmark in 1978. He stated that the interior details are excellent and noted that it remains a fabulous house although it has been neglected. Gray explained that preservation options remain and stated that perhaps Preservation North Carolina could assist in the relocation.

He provided the history of this property and stated that the current owners are proud of the house and eager to see it protected as a landmark.

The Survey Committee presented a seconded motion recommending that the Historic Landmarks Commission process the Thompson-Anderson House, 858 Concord Road, Davidson, N.C., for historic landmark designation including the interior and exterior of the house and the property associated with tax parcel 00729301. The Commission unanimously approved the motion.

b. Consideration of the Designation Report for the Steele Creek Manse, 7728 Steele Creek Road, Charlotte

Chair Clarke explained that this property is owned by the Charlotte Douglas International Airport. He stated that discussions regarding the preservation of this property have been held but noted his understanding that the airport's intent is to demolish the property soon. He stated that this property was added to the Study List at the last Survey Committee meeting.

Warlick stated that this is the manse of the Steele Creek Presbyterian Church and explained that it and other structures sit on a 17-acre parcel of land. He stated that there is a potential cemetery on the property that has yet to be located.

Gray explained that this property is where staff was hopeful could be the relocation area for other nearby endangered historic properties. He stated that the manse is in immediate danger of being demolished and explained that if the Commission votes to begin processing the property for landmark designation that demolition would be delayed for 180 days.

Chair Clarke stated that this property has been deemed eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. He stated that it is not unprecedented for the Commission to recommend landmark designation over the owner's objection. Gray explained that it is typically more productive to work with people interested in preservation.

Stuart Hair explained that the Steele Creek Presbyterian Church never pursued landmark designation of the manse.

Commissioner Makas asked about the designation process. Gray stated that if the Commission votes to begin processing the property for landmark designation tonight that staff will attempt to get this issue before City Council soon.

v. J.J. Akers House, 6501 Sardis Road, Charlotte

Gray stated that staff has heard from residents concerned that this resource is threatened.

Chair Clarke described that this stone Tudor manor was designed by Louis Asbury, Sr., and is located on a 6.5-acre parcel. He stated that the house has been listed for sale and noted that Providence Day School plans to purchase the property to create an athletic complex. He stated that this is an original structure in this part of the County and explained that the community is hopeful for a resolution that includes the preservation of the house.

Gray stated that staff unsuccessfully reached out to the headmaster but that parents of students who attend this school contacted the headmaster who stated that the school is under contact to purchase the property and who explained that the outcome of the property is the decision of the Board of Trustees and the Board's Properties Committee. Gray stated that this property is well-suited for adaptive reuse, particularly due to the size of the building and the amount of developable land around the house.

Chair Clarke questioned whether anyone has asked the Commission to prepare a designation report on the property. Gray stated no, but noted that staff has the resources to quickly produce a report. He explained that staff has to balance resources and commitments but could produce a designation report through either a consultant or Consulting Preservation Planner Warlick if directed by the Commission.

Wilson clarified that the ask is to direct staff to undertake the production of a designation report. He stated his belief that this would be a good thing to do, especially due to the amount of public engagement, which the Commission should consider.

Gray stated that he heard the consensus of the Commission and will direct resources towards the production of a designation report for the Akers House.

vi. Sydenham B. Alexander, Jr. House, 250 Cherokee Road, Charlotte

Chair Clarke stated that the Survey Committee recommended adding these properties to the Study List and authorized staff to work with Susan Mayer to ensure applicable property details are included.

Dan Morrill with Preserve Mecklenburg explained that the organization had an assignable option on the J.J. Akers House for a year. He stated that Preserve Mecklenburg met with Providence Day School during this time and made the school aware that it would have to accept a preservation agreement on the property if purchase was pursued while Preserve Mecklenburg held the assignable option. He explained that Preserve Mecklenburg never received a letter of intent from the school.

Chair Clarke stated that the objective is to have a designation report to consider at the Commission's January meeting.
